the newly installed pope at Avignon, the French noblemen Clement VI (1291-1352) decided the calendar needed to be reformed.

This pope, known for his pomp, his extravagant living, and his patronage of the arts dispatched letters to calendar experts on Sept 25, 1344, asking them

The Field of the Pope Bald Pagan (Ladon of Leda) was born & raised among the tribes of the northern peoples.
He had a son who was a son of the Celts, and he was named after his father, Bald.
But he was not bald, he had long hair, and he was called Bald because he had a very large head.
